FEATURED GLASS POUR TWO VINTNERS GRENAHE $15

The promise of Grenache: WA's hot, dry climate is ideally suited to this drought-resistant, heat-loving variety. The Rocks District of Milton Freewater, just across the OR border from Walla Walla bears distinct similarities to Southern France's Grenache mecca, Chateauneuf du Pape; both have ancient river bed soil formations and very hot summers. Many think The Rocks is the most distinctive terroir in America.

SYRAH

syrah has seen great success in the climate of walla walla, which can get quite warm during summer days, but is typically accompanied by very cool nights, which helps to keep these wines fresh and bright. each of these wa syrahs employs some use of whole-cluster fermentation, the classic method employed in the northern rhône, which gives savory complexity to syrah's deep black cherry fruit.
